

My name is Eric Sopko. I am a filmmaker. Recently, I directed and produced a film called Dinosaurs With Guns. The film is a homage to older style creature effects, and in order to get the monsters to look the way I wanted, we had to use old style miniatures and costumes for all the creature effects. In crafting the creatures for the film, there were many obstacles presented our way in achieving exactly what we wanted. Thankfully, those challenges were met and exceeded.

I am writing this letter of endorsement for Chuck Jackson and his company Bright Waters FX because of the outstanding work that was done for this film. Chuck got in contact with me through the Kickstarter we made for the film, and I am very glad he reached out to me. I had a particular vision of what I wanted in my mind, and I don't think we could have achieved that without Chuck's efforts. This film had many challenges with how the creature effects and costumes needed to be done, and Chuck got everything we needed for the film done on time, and within our budget for the production, and the end product that was delivered never failed to exceed my very high expectations. I've worked on several horror and science fiction films, all of which required many custom props and costumes. I've never found anyone as talented or easy to work with than Chuck in my travels. He is a stand up guy, and someone you can always count on, which I feel is essential to any successful project.

One of the wisest moves I made on this production was asking him to come on board for the ride. We really could not have done this without him and his company, Bright Waters FX. We always got what we wanted, and at a cost that allowed us to not have to compromise in other areas of the production. If you're in similar need of creatures and various other things, then a wise place to start is bringing Chuck and company on board. Trust me, you won't regret it.

Sincerely,

Eric Sopko
